OCCIDENTAL EXHIBIT AT IMPERIAL FRUIT SHOW

The adjoining picture appeared in the November 7th issue of the London weekly, "Canada." It shows the non-competitive exhibit displayed at the Imperial Fruit Show, held at Manchester from October 30th to November 7th, by the Occidental Fruit Co., Ltd., in regard to which "Canada" says:

"To the left of Miss Canada appears Miss Occidental, the charming representative of the Golden West. Her stand shows some very fine scenic effects in the background, and, by an ingenious motor arrangement, provides a constant flowing stream of apples pouring out as from a fountain of perpetual health."

LIQUOR STORE RAIDED BY BURGLARS

Thieves Break Into Premises New Year's Morning And Take Away Quantity Of Wet Goods

In the early hours of morning on New Year's Day, thirsty burglars entered the Government Liquor Store on Bernard Avenue and took from the shelves more than $100 worth of liquor. That the loss was comparatively light is doubtless due to the fact that the thieves were unable to pack more than the estimated amount taken.

The burglars gained entrance to the premises through the front door on Bernard Avenue by smashing the small window in the upper centre of the door after repeated attempts to pry the door open had failed. Marks on the casing near the lock show that they tried to force the door open before breaking the glass. It is reported that the crash was heard by persons living near by, who did not realize the cause, however. The robbery was not discovered until shortly before 10 o'clock in the morning, when the broken glass was observed by Mayor D. H. Rattenbury.

JOY PREVAILS AS NEW YEAR ARRIVES

Advent Of 1932 Hailed With Optimism At Three Public Dances And Many Home Parties

Kelownians, in common with the rest of the world, shed no tears over the departure of Old Man 1931. On the other hand, this cantankerous old gentleman was gaily and literally "kicked out" on the eve of the New Year, and young 1932 was ushered in with joyous acclaim. Nearly everywhere—at the several dances, in the home and on the street—the advent of a new year was heralded by merry-making and revelry, and when the last stroke of twelve had died away even the most pessimistic turned their faces to the New Year alight with renewed hope and confidence.

In addition to house parties and comparatively quiet functions by the home fireside, dances were held in the Royal Anne Hotel, in the I.O.O.F. Temple and in the Orange Hall, all largely attended by merry crowds with the very appropriate motto of "let joy be unconfined."

It is estimated that close to three hundred and fifty people attended the New Year's Eve Ball at the Royal Anne, including a small number from out of town. Here the Kelownians Orchestra started the ball rolling at about 10 o'clock, and in a short time the dance floor in the rotunda was packed with a colourful crowd, adorned with fancy paper caps and equipped with noisemakers of various kinds. Just after 11 o'clock the table supper of cold turkey and the fixings began, and three sittings were required to serve all.

About ten minutes before midnight, the Jolly sisters—Misses Ruby and Marjorie Jolley—appeared in an old-fashioned tap dance, dressed in gold and carrying golden-hued muffs, and at three minutes to the hour they reappeared, with their gowns serving as capes, in a military tap to the tune of "Happy Days Are Here Again." In the midst of this, Father Time (Mr. Bobby Burns), appropriately attired, made his entrance, but was finally chased out after Charles Buckland had sounded his bugle and Jack Treadgold had beat twelve strokes with the drum, the death knell of 1931. Then followed the pandemonium without which such an occasion is not complete.

At the I.O.O.F. Temple, where the basketball club staged a frolic following the games on that evening, the scene was no less merry. Upstairs and down the interior of the building was gaily decorated, the balloons and noisemakers adding to the colourful effect of the whole. A large crowd enjoyed dancing in the upper hall from 10 to 3 o'clock, and a supper was served downstairs shortly after midnight. The Melody Aces, augmented to five pieces, supplied the music.

At twelve o'clock sharp practically all gathered in the upper hall to celebrate the arrival of Master 1932, who, promptly on the hour and with all the assurance of the young, emerged proudly from a huge clock which had been constructed by the basketball boys. This young man was none other than Bobby DeMara, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles DeMara, and the din he caused was almost deafening.

The dance in the Orange Hall, also a most happy function, was liberally patronized.

ANOTHER OF ESCAPED CONVICTS RECAPTURED

VANCOUVER, Jan. 7.—Desire to see his mother led today to Frank Sorge, one of the five convicts who escaped from Oakalla Prison on Sunday, being recaptured. Sorge visited his home during the early hours of the morning, and a neighbour who saw him leave reported the fact to the police. Questioned, his mother admitted that he had visited her. A cordon was thrown round the district and Sorge was found hiding in the bush. He carried a loaded revolver but he made no resistance. He is the third of the quintette to be recaptured. William Bagley, internationally known bandit, and Gordon Fawcett, bank robber, are still at large.

GOVERNMENT GRANTS SHOW DECREASE

Rise in Share Of Pari-Mutuel Taxes Does Not Offset Fall In Liquor Profits

Owing to regular sessions having been held weekly instead of fortnightly during the past month, practically all unfinished business of the municipal year has been cleared up, and there was comparatively little on the agenda at the meeting of the City Council on Monday night, at which all the members were in attendance.

Receipt of the customary government grants showed a drop of $626.76 in the share of liquor profits for the accounting period ending September 30th, 1931, the payment being $4,084.90, as against $4,711.66 for the corresponding period of 1930. The decrease was but partly offset by a gain of $384.80 in the share of pari-mutuel taxes, which amounted to $1,448.06 as against $1,063.25. The net decrease in the two grants thus amounted to $241.96.

Tour Of Province Under Government Auspices

A letter from Major J. Gordon Smith, Director of Publicity and Information, Victoria, advised the Council that Mr. W. A. McAdam, Secretary of the Agent-General's office in London, is organizing a tour of the province under his personal direction. According to the itinerary, the party will arrive at Kelowna from Penticton at 9.45 a.m., on June 18th, and will leave for Vernon by road at 4.00 p.m. the same day. Mr. McAdam wished to ascertain if arrangements could be made to provide motor cars at Kelowna to drive the party to Vernon. He could not say at this time how many would be included in it, but he would be satisfied if he could bring twenty or twenty-five people. He would like to know what forms of reception might be tendered to the visitors by the various local public bodies. A descriptive circular was enclosed, and it was stated that a copy of this, together with a letter in similar terms, had been sent to the Kelowna Board of Trade.

It was decided to leave any arrangements for reception of the party, which is to consist of would-be settlers or investors, in the hands of the Board of Trade.

Contribution From Central Relief Committee

In accordance with the agreement reached last winter between the Central Relief Committee and the Council in regard to the provision of some work for unemployed men prior to commencement of sewer construction, a contribution of $250.00 in cash was received from the Committee to cover the work done between January 19th, 1931, and March 4th, 1931, exclusive of sewer construction, on the fifty-fifty basis arranged by Mr. E. W. Barton, Honorary Secretary of the Committee.

Report Of Poundkeeper

Additional to his report already lodged for November, Mr. J. Powick, Poundkeeper, reported a cow and a horse having been impounded during that month, both of which were released on payment of a total of $6.00 in fees. For December, he reported the impoundment of fifty-one turkeys, which were released upon payment of $15.00 in fees, and of one mare, which

DRILLING TO RESUME AT OIL WELL NO. 1

Drill Lodged In Bore For Five Weeks Is Fished Out

There is much rejoicing at the work camp of the Okanagan Oil & Gas Co., Ltd., at Oil Well No. 1, for yesterday, after five weeks of strenuous "fishing," the broken drill stem, stuck at the bottom of the 2,255-foot bore, was dislodged and pulled out, and the way made clear for resumption of drilling operations today or tomorrow.

The broken piece measured ten feet long in all, including seven and one-half feet of drill and two and one-half feet of stem, and it was an extremely difficult task to grapple it at such depth and under the weight of the whole bore full of water.

The shut-down has interfered seriously with the canvass of the Company for support, but now that drilling can be resumed the directors are hopeful that their efforts to make a thorough test of the gas and petroleum possibilities will receive adequate backing throughout the Okanagan.

PUBLICITY CHECKS SALES OF INFERIOR BUTTER

Movement Initiated By Spallumcheen Farmer Has Wholesome Effect

(Contributed)

A few weeks ago, when an inferior brand of butter was coming into the Okanagan, Mr. James McCallan, a prominent dairy farmer in the Spallumcheen, brought the matter up at a meeting of Jersey breeders in Armstrong. His action, combined with the newspaper publicity that resulted, had the effect of arousing public opinion and preventing the sale of this poor quality of butter, as was brought out clearly at a meeting of the Directors of the Okanagan Valley Co-operative Creamery Association, held in the Board of Trade Room in Vernon, on Monday, January 4th.

It was elicited that the pressure of public opinion was increased to such an extent by newspaper publicity and demonstrations by farmers that some stores shipped the offending butter out of the Okanagan. Others got rid of their stocks and announced by advertisements that they handled nothing but Okanagan butter.

Some of the directors expressed the opinion that action in regard to the matter should have been taken long ago, but all were unanimous that Mr. McCallan and the Okanagan press had rendered invaluable service to the dairy industry.

Mr. S. Halksworth declared that farmers should work together in the same way regarding other matters, when they would accomplish wonders.

Mr. R. J. Coltart said: "When I was in Vancouver recently I saw three and five-pound bricks of butter selling at ridiculous prices. There is lots of third grade butter on the prairie, but we do not need it here."

Mr. J. McCallan said there was no excuse for consumers wanting something cheaper than they could get in the Okanagan, for butter prices were never lower during the past twenty years.

It was moved by Mr. R. Peters, and seconded by Mr. J. R. Gillians, that the Secretary be instructed to write to the Vernon News, Armstrong Advertiser, Enderby Commoner and the Kelowna Courier, expressing the appreciation of the members of the Okanagan Valley Co-operative Creamery Association for the excellent service rendered by these local newspapers in bringing to the attention of the public that the local dairy industry was being damaged through importation and sale of low-priced and inferior butter; and that the Secretary also convey the thanks of the Board to Director McCallan for the energetic action he took on behalf of the dairy farmers through calling attention to the matter in public meeting. Carried unanimously.

was turned over to the Poundkeeper for the fees.

The Council met until Monday, January 11th.

MEMBERS REVIEW ACTIONS OF GOVERNMENTS

Kelowna Conservatives Hear Address By Mr. Grote Stirling, M.P., And Hon. J. W. Jones

Mr. Grote Stirling, M.P., and Hon. J. W. Jones, Minister of Finance, addressed the annual meeting of the Kelowna District Conservative Association in the I.O.O.F. Temple on Wednesday evening of last week, when a comprehensive review of the work accomplished by both Conservative administrations was given. An account of the business session appeared in last week's issue but a report of the speeches was necessarily held over.

Mr. Stirling, in opening his address, Mr. Stirling, the first speaker, remarked that it was the first time he had had the opportunity to meet the Association assembled, and he expressed his appreciation of the loyalty and support which had enabled the Conservatives to carry the country successfully in the federal elections of 1930. While several Conservative representatives in other sections of the province lost their seats, the federal member for Yale had been able to retain his majority only through hard work on the part of his supporters.

Premier Bennett Highly Lauded

In Richard Bedford Bennett, declared Mr. Stirling, this Dominion had a leader who was an intense Canadian and an able man. The member for Yale was such an enthusiastic supporter of Premier Bennett that it was his desire to do his will. Prominent public men in Ottawa who had served Canada for many years had said that the unity of the Conservative party had not been exceeded since the day of Sir John A. Macdonald. And now, when the country was passing through a difficult period, the country was fortunate to have at its head such a man as Mr. Bennett. Mr. Bennett had made election promises, but few leaders indeed had ever hurried to redeem them with the speed of the Premier. His predecessors had done little to curb expenditure though the depression was in sight. Immigration was flooding in, but was cut off effectively in August, and restrictions were so placed as to bar almost entirely the undesirable from the country. Practically only those who could satisfy the authorities that they could support and establish themselves were permitted to enter Canada.

The Prime Minister promised a short session of Parliament for the purpose of dealing with emergency relief, and this was called without delay. At this session it was proposed that a beginning should be made to mould tariffs more to the needs of the country, and this too was done; the fruit and vegetable growers of the Okanagan Valley received immediate protection—a protection for which he had worked at six sessions on the opposition benches. They now had protection, that would protect and without which the domestic markets would have been this year in a sorry state indeed. This same protection applied in other parts of Canada as well, where machinery was now going full blast and payrolls were set up, making Canadian dollars roll for the betterment of Canada's trade.

After the short session, Premier Bennett went to the Imperial Conference in London, where he delivered a

WORK DONE BY LOCAL RELIEF ORGANIZATION

Kelowna and District Relief Association Deals With Cases In City And Country

(Contributed)

There appears to exist in the minds of the public some confusion as to the organizations and agencies in Kelowna that are administering relief, as to what areas are covered, whether there is any overlapping in this work or whether there is satisfactory co-operation, and who are the persons acting with authority. The following brief statement is prepared at the request of The Courier in order to supply the necessary information.

For five years or more prior to last fall relief was administered within the city of Kelowna (and in special cases in the surrounding community) by a committee which was called The Central Relief Committee, Kelowna. The committee was made up of representatives from all organizations in the city which ordinarily would give some relief to their members or others. Capt. E. W. Barton was its Honorary Secretary, Rev. A. K. McMinn was its Chairman and Mr. Reg. Rutherford its Honorary Auditor. That Committee still exists and, although it is not functioning this year, it turned over to the City of Kelowna a week ago $250.00 in cash for work which was provided by the civic authorities, at the suggestion of the Committee, to relieve existing distress before commencement of sewer construction last year. The Committee felt that it was much better to provide some work that needy men could do and thus earn some money rather than give them direct relief. Hence they suggested that some work be undertaken for which they would pay dollar for dollar with the City, and payment of the amount stated was made upon receipt of a detailed statement from the City as to the work done.

When the sewer extension work commenced and the City also distributed direct relief in addition to providing relief work for such others as could be employed, the Committee ceased to operate in order to avoid duplication, and it has not functioned as a Committee since then, although its Chairman has continued to deal with special cases of distress during the winter and fall after the sewer work was completed. They, therefore, have not made any appeal for funds and have accepted none, although some donations have been proffered by former contributors.

Meanwhile the Provincial Government commenced in the late summer and fall to administer relief through its office on Bernard Avenue to transient single men and some single women, also to families that had drifted into the city but did not come under the regulations governing the City in giving relief. The Provincial Office is also distributing relief to a few needy families in the country adjacent to Kelowna. In the late fall, when the difficulty of finding work showed a marked increase, there came into being a new Committee, organized upon the initiative of the Toc H Group, whose members felt that relief was going to be a big task this winter and that the special circumstances called for much thoughtfulness and sympathy. They also felt that the Committee should cover not only the city but that it also should serve the country districts in a consistent manner. The result of several meetings was the formation of the new Committee now known as the Kelowna and District Volunteer Relief Association. Rev. A. K. McMinn, the Chairman of the Kelowna Central Relief Committee, gave it his support, as did also other members of the old committee, in the belief that it would bring many new workers into the field and give a wide distribution of representation, thus obtaining much valued information.

MAYOR WILL NOT ACCEPT NOMINATION

Following Statement By His Worship Ald. D. K. Gordon Announces Candidature For Mayoralty

Experience derived throughout the whole twenty-six years of the existence of municipal government in Kelowna has proved repeatedly that it is somewhat of a futile business to indulge in any predictions prior to nomination day as to the intentions of office-holders to offer themselves for a new term or as to the personality of new candidates. So recently as two years ago, the municipal elections were a great surprise in several respects, completely upsetting the announcements made by candidates themselves, and 1932 may prove somewhat of the same order. Bearing this in mind, readers will scan what follows with appropriate mental reservations as to if and perhaps.

On Monday night, during the usual informal talk which follows the regular sessions of the Council, its members whose terms expire this month were goaded by the press representative to make some statement for publication in regard to their intentions. Mayor Rattenbury at once authorized an announcement of his desire to retire to private life, on the ground of impairment of health and desire for a rest. Although pressed by his colleagues to offer himself for another term, he remained adamant in his decision. The three aldermen whose terms expire were then invited to disclose their plans, when all of them, Aldermen R. F. Morrison, J. Galbraith and G. A. McKay, stated they would not accept nomination for another period of office. Ald. Morrison was then asked if he would consider the mayoralty, but he said, while he appreciated the honour, he did not see how he could possibly perform the duties, owing to the necessity of frequent absences from Kelowna to attend to his business interests in Vernon.

Later, after the meeting dispersed, Ald. D. K. Gordon announced that in the event of Mayor Rattenbury persisting in his determination to retire, he would offer himself as a candidate for the mayoralty. If any other candidates propose to take the field, they have not as yet announced their intentions, and, as is customary in Kelowna, presumably silence in that regard will reign until nomination day, next Monday, in the Council Chamber, between noon and 2 p.m.

No public announcement has been made by any of the other office-holders, including the members of the School Board, but it is understood that Dr. B. F. Boyce is not to seek re-election as a Police Commissioner. If Mayor Rattenbury should carry out his intention to retire, he will have closed a long period of valuable service to the city, having filled fourteen terms as an alderman and two terms as Mayor. He was first elected to the Council for the South Ward in 1914, and has held office continuously since then with the exception of the years 1924 and 1925, when he was not a member of the Council. He became Mayor in 1930, upon retirement of the late Mr. D. W. Sutherland. For many years he acted as chairman of the Finance Committee, in which capacity his wide knowledge of financial affairs and his powers of cool and reasoned judgment found most useful scope.

TWO WOMEN PERISH WHEN PLANE CRASHES

NEVILLE, Pa., Jan. 7.—The bodies of two women, Mrs. Debbie Stanford, of Toronto, and Mrs. Ruth Stewart, of New York, who took off on Tuesday from Pittsburgh for New York, were found in their wrecked plane in the Blue Ridge mountains near here today. BOYSCOUT COLUMN

1st Kelowna Troop
Troop First! Self Last!

January 5th, 1932.

Orders for the week ending Thursday, January 14th, 1932:

Duties: Orderly patrol for the week, Eagles; next for duty, Otters.

Rallies: The Troop will rally at the Scout Hall tomorrow night, Friday, in full uniform, for their annual "Bun-feed." This parade is called for 6.30 p.m. The regular weekly meeting will be held next Monday evening, January 11th, at 7.15, and the weekly basketball practices will be resumed on the Friday following.

A letter received this week from our District Commissioner brings to our notice the fact that the Troop has not been registered since 1926, furthermore it reminds us that the 1931 registration fee has not been paid. Under the Policy Organization and Rules for Canada, Section 86, an annual registration fee of fifty cents for each Scout or Rover Scout is payable to Dominion Headquarters at the time of application for Charter or renewal of Charter. An illuminated registration card bearing the signatures of the Chief Scout for Canada, the Chief Commissioner and the Provincial Commissioner, is issued to each Scout and Rover Scout. The money received from registration is returned to the province of origin for use in field work of carrying Scouting to outlying districts, where often it is as much needed as in larger centres. We are well aware that times are rather difficult just now as far as finances are concerned, but we really must make an effort to comply with this regulation this year.

On Sunday last, the Rovers held their annual wood-cutting bee. The party which consisted of eight "skookum" young men, including their leader, Alister Cameron, left early last Sunday morning for the neighbourhood of Cedar Creek, where they had obtained permission to clean up some of the fallen logs in that locality. A really enjoyable day was spent, during which they managed to cut up a considerable quantity of wood. As usual on these occasions, the main event of the day was the dinner, which consisted of spuds, pork and beans, bread and butter, fruit and tea. We expect that every one will have a chance to try his strength on the splitting maul some night soon. These little wood-chopping bees, where the logs are cut up and split into pieces small enough for the furnace, take place behind the hall and, needless to say, every one is welcome.

WESTBANK

The T. T. Q. Club girls met at the home of the Secretary-Treasurer, Miss Winnie Hoskins, on Monday afternoon, to make arrangements for a masquerade dance to be held on the 29th inst.

Mr. Farley B. Dickinson and Miss M. Mossey have returned from the Coast to resume their duties at the school.

The Ladies Bridge Club spent a jolly evening at the home of Mrs. Washington Brown on Wednesday night. Mrs. Brown was the winner of the first prize and Miss Ellen Hannam won the booby.

During the past week Mr. M. J. de Puyfyer and his willing gang held a "Bee" at the hall. The ceiling has been lined in and the walls are now being finished up to the ceiling, which will make the hall much cosier.

On Old Year's night twenty-two dancers went to Summerland, where they spent a jolly evening in the Ellison Hall and saw the New Year in.

On Wednesday night Mr. M. J. de Puyfyer held a stag party at his home. During the evening the men present formed a Men's Bridge Club.

Mrs. Carl Hinman, who had spent the past six months in Westbank taking a rest cure for her nerves, returned to her home in Saskatchewan last week very much better in health.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray and family arrived from Assiniboine, Saskatchewan, on Saturday and are looking out for a farm in Westbank. Several families have come from Saskatchewan during the past two years, the fame of Westbank's healthy climate and excellent water supply having attracted them.

The annual meeting of the Women's Institute was held in the stage room of the Community Hall on Tuesday afternoon.

GUILD OF HEALTH
Weekly Scripture Study for all interested in Spiritual Healing.
Psalm 91—Matt. 10: 5-20—Mark 16: 14 to end. Rev. 22: 1-7. I. Thes. 5: 14-end. Ezekiel 18: 1-5. Mark 7: 24-end.

The question of spiritual healing is occupying the attention of the race today as never before. Not only of spiritual healing—on every hand we find the attention of mankind turning to every possible means of regaining health of mind and body. The law of disease is the law of sin, or the perverse use of forces and elements that within themselves are perfectly good. Also the law of health is the law of righteousness, or the right use of the very same elements that, when wrongly used, produce disease. Those who seek to realize their healing should employ the highest and best methods that they know, and at the same time endeavour to learn more and more of the laws of truth, then live those laws to the best of their ability.

ACTRESS ENTERS CONVENT

After winning sudden success on the stage, Mlle. Suzanne Delorme, of Paris, has astounded her friends by deciding to enter a convent.
Mlle. Delorme's greatest success was in a play in which she played the role of a runaway convent girl, and it is suggested that the way in which she put her heart into her playing may have influenced her in deciding to become a nun.—(Acme photo.)

1ST RUTLAND TROOP

"Do A Good Turn Daily"

Orders for the week ending January 9th.

foreman of the district, where he was known as a most conscientious public servant. As a citizen, neighbour and friend, no one could be more missed than Bill Ball will be, always ready to help a friend, a constant source of help for the Indians. No one knocked at his door in vain. During the summer when so many wanderers were going through Billy many a time went to the store and bought food to help them on their way. Mr. Ball at the age of thirteen started out in life as a page boy in the home of that well known cleric and author, the Rev. Baring Gould, where he received an excellent training. Mr. Ball was a member of the Anglican Church, but he was always ready to help any church or other good cause, and he was on the executive of the Community Club.

TOOK OFF HIS HAT TO HIS HOGS

Not long ago a livestock truck pulled up to the unloading chute at one of the smaller abattoirs in Saskatchewan. The driver, a farmer of German extraction who for some years has been making a comfortable living out of mixed farming, near Strassbourg, unloaded a number of good bacon type hogs and called for the grader.

After having the load graded and weighed, the farmer asked to be given his cheque so as to do some shopping before leaving for home. The amount was slightly over one hundred dollars. As the farmer walked past the hogs on the way to the cashier's office the livestock buyer noticed that he stopped for a last look and finally lifted his hat to them as he left the pen.

In a joking manner the buyer asked the farmer why he did it. The reply contained some food for thought.

"Well," said the farmer, "I have been farming in my district now for a good many years. All that time I have kept a few sows and fed some hogs, and whenever I was 'stuck' for a hundred dollars I could always go to my pig pen and get the money. Many of my neighbours feel that they don't want to be bothered with hogs at the price they are, but I sure would like to have this money I am just going to get from you. I always will take off my hat to my hogs; they have helped me out of many a tight place, and I expect always to have some on my farm."

About the only thing certain in regard to the disarmament parley is that there will be a whole lot of parley.

STERLING JUMPS THREE CENTS IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—The pound sterling jumped three cents here today to $3.38½ in U. S. funds. The Canadian dollar held steady at 84½ cents, unchanged from yesterday's final figure.

ECONOMY TO BE WATCHWORD OF B. C. GOVERNMENT

VANCOUVER, Jan. 7.—Reduction of expenditures all along the line is to be the watchword of the Provincial Government from now on. Hon. J. W. Jones, Minister of Finance, announced here last night upon his return from Calgary, where he had an interview with Premier Bennett.

Drastic economies will be put into effect immediately. Hon. Mr. Jones stated. Government employees in every department face salary reductions and wherever possible governmental services will be eliminated, but the Minister was not prepared to state just what services would be eliminated pending consultation with his colleagues at Victoria. He stated, however, that no department will be overlooked when the axe descends.

remarkable speech, setting out the policy of "Canada first, Empire second, do what you will with the foreigner," Canada, for thirty years, had given preference to the Mother Country, receiving nothing in exchange. Now, said Mr. Bennett, in effect, we should understand the practice of trading within the Empire; Canada must know where she stands. Though Mr. Bennett's speech was criticized in some quarters, said Mr. Stirling, it was by far the most outstanding of any delivered by the other delegates to the Conference and created a profound impression. The action taken by the British people two months ago bore out the statement.

Premier Bennett had taken necessary steps in dealing with the country's problems. Some might have been hard to take, but they had to be taken. "If ever there was a time," said Mr. Stirling, "when economy was necessary that time is now." No matter who does the cutting, it has to be done if we are to return to sanity.

Opposition Only Should Criticize

The Prime Minister and his party were a unified set of men, but when times were difficult people were inclined to criticize. The members of the Conservative Association should support their party, should support those they put in power. It was the duty of the opposition to criticize. Criticism was easier than constructive thought, and no one had the right to criticize until they were in possession of all the facts. All the facts were obtainable only at the council table in Ottawa.

Referring to Great Britain's abolition of the gold standard, Mr. Stirling asked what was the effect. Prior to September 21st, 1931, New York was the money changing place of the world. Great Britain's action made it impossible for the government to borrow money, and there was gloom in eastern Canada because markets were cut off. Mr. Stirling was at first critical in thought until he realized fully how the situation affected government financing.

Unemployment Relief

The intention of the government in handling relief was to take care of the distressed, but the number to be taken care of was considerable, and when the government started to build camps many thought they were too lavish. But the people of Canada set out to provide something more than soup kitchens. Mr. Stirling himself was critical in thought when this programme was begun, but when he realized that the standard of all camps, lumber camps and others, was set by legislation, he felt differently about it. The government could hardly adopt lesser measures than those demanded of others.

A good deal of the criticism in this regard was not wise or fair, said Mr. Stirling in conclusion, and the best we could do in time of difficulty was to loyally support men in a position of trust as it was our duty to support them. He would like to think they trusted him to look after the interests of the riding. He endeavoured to put the requirements of Yale to the top, and if he failed in any detail he expected them to write and tell him so. (Applause).

The Minister Of Finance

Rising to speak, Hon. Mr. Jones said that so many familiar faces—the faces of men with whom he had been associated in provincial politics for many years—gave him a touch of homesickness but at the same time a thrill of delight.

He had listened with great pleasure to Mr. Stirling's address on federal policies, and he was glad that Mr. Bennett had recently returned from the Old Country in better health and spirits to tackle the many problems with which he was confronted. The men at the head of public affairs today needed and deserved the sympathy of the people, and some in Ottawa had already succumbed to the great strain to which they had been subjected.

Conveying the season's greetings from Premier Tolmie, who was unable to attend the meeting, the minister said that at first he had doubted if he himself would be able to come to the valley at that time as, for the past two months, pressure of work had kept him chained to his desk in Victoria. Mr. Bennett, however, had come through with a nice Christmas present of a few thousands, which helped out. He congratulated the meeting on their selection of officers that evening, and voiced his appreciation of retiring President R. F. Morrison and retiring Secretary T. G. Norris for their good work in past years. (Applause).

Provincial Difficulties

After giving a brief resume of events leading up to his acceptance of the portfolio of Minister of Finance, the speaker remarked that the provincial debt had increased five times in the thirteen years the Liberals were in power. Furthermore, some $80,000,000 had been invested which was not yielding returns, including millions in unprofitable land schemes, and reversion of land had cost the government millions. Premier Tolmie, therefore, was confronted with a serious situation. Taking office at the peak of prosperity, large delegations pressed the government for heavy expenditures of money. For instance, last year Vancouver Island alone wanted $8,000,000 to spend, and the rest of the province asked for twice as much. Through Boards of Trade and other organizations, requests were made for grants to build public highways amounting to the staggering sum of $23,000,000. And the annual revenue of the province was only $24,000,000.

During their thirteen years of office, the Liberal administration built up a deficit of $16,000,000 and made commitments on public buildings running into millions that had to be paid. The minister insisted on economy when he took office. He started to cut down, only to find that no one wanted economy—and no one wanted to pay taxes. Revenues were falling, but the cost of social services—mothers' pensions, hospitals, etc. had doubled in the past eight years.

The Relief Problem

Unemployment to the extent materialized was not expected this year, said Hon. Mr. Jones, as they had little realization of the true situation internationally. It was not known that Germany had borrowed large amounts of money from the United States, and other foreign negotiations that were to have their effect were not clear. Last winter, British Columbia looked after 28,000 unemployed, but at that time it was not thought that the situation following September 21st, 1931, would develop. Hon. Gideon Robertson, Minister of Labour, came to Victoria this year, when the seriousness of the situation was outlined to him, but he asked them to wait until the end of the session of federal parliament when the situation would be met. On August 18th, Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, came to Victoria, asking the provincial government to outline the routes of traffic proposed and to give figures relating to unemployment. Mr. Jones and his colleagues explained the gravity of the unemployment situation, pointing out the responsibility of the federal government with regard to transients.

The reply was that the federal government could do nothing to stop migration of transients from one province to the other and that the provinces themselves would have to handle the matter. A fifty-fifty basis was arranged for work in unorganized territory, the Dominion government paying fifty per cent of the cost of labour and materials and the B.C. government was required to pay twenty-five per cent of the labour costs only. Mr. Jones told Mr. Stevens that his government was prepared to spend $3,500,000 on relief work, and Mr. Stevens said that Ottawa would give that amount.

A few weeks ago 66,000 were registered as unemployed in the province of British Columbia. When the unemployed were flocking to the Coast cities earlier in the year, the government was urged to establish camps and get them out of the cities on to the highways. The federal government approved of many roads it was proposed to build, and it was decided to establish camps on the highways. The government held back, however, until September, when Mr. Bennett said that he would loan them money. Then the camps were established, and later some not approved by the federal government were opened up.

On September 21st the whole situation was changed. England was on the verge of bankruptcy and a situation existed in eastern Canada approaching panic. The situation was serious even now, with American financial markets closed and the Canadian dollar quoted at a discount. The Canadian government could not borrow from New York, and Canada owed already $195,000,000 on which the discount would have to be taken when paid. Provincial governments and municipalities also owed in New York, and there was one source only from which they could expect a loan, the federal government. And Mr. Bennett was faced with the problem of finding the money to cover everything. No wonder he had been under a great strain.

The camps were opened in October, and they had to be constructed hastily. Engineers in charge were possibly given too much power, but the Minister of Public Works was ready to defend his actions anywhere.

In the middle of October, said Mr. Jones, he attended a conference of western Premiers at Calgary, after which he was asked by Mr. Bennett to go to Ottawa. With him he took data and schedules relating to work in B.C., and on his arrival he discovered the difficulty of the financial situation. Preparations were then being made for the National Service Loan.

BACK TO NORMAL

Write it 1932.
Now that all the fun of kicking an old year out the back door and welcoming a new year through the front door is over, the world and his wife are settling down in earnest to the business of ploughing in on the work that must be done in 1932. The tasks that confront us are faced with mixed feeling, but the spirit of optimism is dominant. It certainly doesn't help much to take a gloomy view of things at the beginning of any year; as a matter of fact, it retards effort, and this year constructive endeavour needs all the assistance it can summon.

A foolish optimist, however, is even worse than a gloomy pessimist. The man who sits back in his chair and mutters happily to all and sundry that "things will turn out all right" may speak the truth so far as it affects general conditions, but if he is doing nothing himself to help things "turn out all right" his optimism is somewhat annoying to the man who has his shoulder at the wheel or his nose to the grindstone. Often men speak in pessimistic tone when, down in their hearts, they are hoping fervently for the best. These men take the same view that "the Lord helps those who help themselves." Nineteen hundred and thirty-one left the world in a chaotic state, one of many times in the same condition. But with the holidays over—with the party ended—the workers of the world are back at their tasks with renewed vigour and, if the spirit lasts, incalculable benefit should result from conscientious effort to construct. In the construction process, the useless and detrimental fall before the onward march of the necessary and beneficial.

BY-PRODUCTS AGAIN

According to a letter in last week's paper, the sponsors of the Mount process for the making of fruit by-products evidently think that I don't like them. They seem to have an idea that the By-Products Committee of the B.C.F.G.A. and myself are conspiring against them by spreading propaganda not exactly to the interests of any but the Growers' Wine Company.

All of which, to me, is quite amusing. In this column of December 17th I said in part: "While it is not my intention to discourage or disparage the two groups referred to, the Growers' Wine Company seem to have the soundest plan because they provide an immediate market for the output of the plant producing. . . . Naturally, the first product produced will be one for which a market is waiting alcohol."

If that isn't good logic, what is? Making, compared with marketing, is comparatively simple.

A DARK OUTLOOK

It is related that, while attending the Indian Conference in London, several titled ladies were presented to Mahatma Gandhi. This sombre-hued gentleman, as you may know, is not exactly a walking advertisement for Bond Street tailors, but when he met the aristocracy in question his anatomy was pretty well covered, only his face and a tootsie or two peeking from the folds of his glorified nightshirt.

The conversation proceeded smoothly and with a dignity befitting the occasion until Gandhi, in his excitement to expound his theories to the interested listeners, snapped a safety pin or something and his manly, if somewhat flat-chested, breast was exposed to the slightly embarrassed company.

Silence reigned for a moment. Then, to cover the confusion, the hostess exclaimed hurriedly: "Gracious! I had no idea things were so black in India!"

WINFIELD

The Community was saddened last week by the death of Mr. J. Lidstone, an old-timer in Winfield. He had been very low for some time and his death was not altogether unexpected. Sympathy is extended to Mrs. Lidstone and family. Ray came down from his farm in the Williams Lake country on Monday, returning on Friday. The funeral was on Wednesday afternoon at the Hall.

The New Year's Eve card party and dance held by the Women's Institute was very successful in every way. There was a record crowd and every one appeared to enjoy himself until about three o'clock in the morning. The prize winners in the cards were: Five hundred—Miss Alice Draper, first; Mrs. F. Hall, consolation; A. Smith, first—Whist—Mrs. J. Coe, first; Miss M. Goss, consolation; W. Spallin, first. Mrs. D. M. Clark was the lucky winner of the patchwork quilt made by the Institute members. Mr. Stark and Mr. Abbott, of Oyama, were the winners of the second and third prizes, a cushion in each case.

The Institute wishes to thank those people who so kindly provided the music for the dancing.

We are sorry to hear that Mr. Stark is not keeping very well these days.

Naturally, the first product produced will be one for which a market is waiting alcohol."

If that isn't good logic, what is? Making, compared with marketing, is comparatively simple.

However, I am not "knocking" the two other proposals, as Mr. Minogue suggests. If there is room for two or three wineries or distilleries in the valley, why not? We have none, and there is a market for them.

What is the object? The By-Products Committee of the B.C.F.G.A. is well able to speak for itself, and it seems hardly necessary to remind Mr. Minogue that it is working solely in the interests of the fruit grower and can hope for no financial reward such as an independent committee or group might reasonably expect. It is to be commended for bringing in Mr. Lamont and Mr. Anscomb to present their proposals to the people of the valley. It is the committee's duty to study every proposition and it has—including the proposals of the two local organizations.

In a letter in the Vernon News last week, the President of the B.C.F.G.A. stated that all groups would be given a hearing at the convention this month, and that at present the B.C.F.G.A. was sponsoring none of them.

With regard to the price any one group can pay for culls, which seems to be one of the chief topics of discussion in relation to by-products, I am frankly in doubt if any of them know what they can pay. The Growers' Wine Company, with practical knowledge, very wisely does not offer hope for high prices, but its subsidiary company, if established, will likely pay what is economically feasible, which is all any other concern can do. In any case, a battle of price at this time is sheer nonsense, when all the growers want is assurance that they can convert into small profit that which in former years has been nothing but loss.

Local and Personal

Mr. A. J. Smith returned yesterday from a trip to the Coast.

Mr. Leslie Elmore, who spent the holidays with his parents here, returned to the Kootenay on Sunday.

One of the show windows on Bernard Avenue of Thos. Lawson, Ltd., was badly cracked on New Year's Eve.

Mr. J. A. Shier returned home on Thursday last from a trip to Winnipeg. He was accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Walter Beggs.

The beautiful $100 diamond ring given away by the Empress Theatre on New Year's night was won by Denis Gore, the lucky ticket holder.

Messrs. Harold McClure and Donald Loane left on Tuesday by motor car for Monterey, California, on a holiday trip. They expect to be away about a month.

Mr. W. A. A. Newton, who has operated a billiard room on Bernard Avenue west for several years, has sold his business to Mr. W. G. Scott, who, it is understood, is acting for another party.

Canadian Pacific Railway officials who arrived in the city today include Mr. C. A. Cottrell, General Superintendent, Vancouver; Mr. J. J. Horn, Superintendent, Revelstoke; and Mr. F. Lee, District Engineer, Vancouver.

On Sunday evening, January 17th, at 9 o'clock, the Kelowna City Band will give a concert in the Empress Theatre, the proceeds of which will be divided between the band and the city relief fund. An entertaining programme is being arranged for the performance, which should draw a good crowd. The programme will be published next week.

The blast of the siren in the Fire Hall tower called firemen from the dinner table on New Year's Day, between 5 and 6 p.m., when some one who noticed smoke in the vicinity of Charles Gowen's garage, corner of Penderozi Street and Lawrence Avenue, gave the alarm before investigating. There was no blaze and no smoke in evidence when the Brigade rushed to the scene of the alleged fire.

The Canadian Legion were "At Home" in their club rooms on Ellis Street on New Year's Day, when a large number of members and guests thoroughly enjoyed themselves. Music and songs provided the entertainment during the day, and the comrades of war days exchanged felicitations at the beginning of a new year at a happy social function. The orchestra consisted of Messrs. Claude Whitehorn, Bob Sutton and Billy Murray.

Those interested in the culture of high quality eating or wine grapes should read the advertisement of Mr. John Burz in this issue. Mr. Burz is a Rumanian from Transylvania, where the winters are quite cold. The vines there are given protection during the winter by a covering of straw and earth, and Mr. Burz is confident that, if the same procedure is followed here, delicious grapes of quality much superior to the common American and Canadian varieties could be grown in this district.

RUTLAND

School re-opened Monday with an enrollment of over 260 pupils. Mrs. A. Humphries is taking charge of the primary grade in the absence, through illness, of Miss Dorothy Clements.

Mr. J. A. Maddaugh, of Penticton, has been a visitor in the district during the past week, staying with old friends, the Gays. He returned to his home in the southern town by stage on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gill and daughter have taken up their residence in Kelowna.

The employees of the West Kootenay Power Co., have been putting up the poles along the main Rutland road during the past week. There has been considerable alteration in the landscape in the process, many old familiar trees succumbing to the axe, to make way for the more utilitarian, though far less ornamental power poles. It is expected that the "juice" will be available in a few weeks. In the meantime many agencies are busy writing the houses of those that can afford it—and many that can't!

Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Howes and family have moved into their former home, the A. H. Mudie property, which they have recently purchased.

A meeting of those interested in stamp collecting, or philately, to give the hobby its official name, was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Bond, on Tuesday last, when some six or seven devotees met with the object of forming a local club. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Gray, on Saturday, Jan. 30th.

Organization was delayed somewhat while awaiting action by the City towards appointment of an official Relief Officer who might also serve as Secretary-Treasurer of the new Committee, thus combining the two functions in a single person who would have all information in his possession and the backing of the sympathy of the community and volunteer endeavour, as well as the financial resources of the City, the Province and the Dominion. However, certain legal technicalities barred the City from appointing a Relief Officer with such joint responsibilities. Meanwhile, the partly organized Committee was still without a Chairman or Vice-Chairman. Rev. A. K. McMinn was pressed into service pro tem, and, on the appointment of Mr. H. Anderson as Relief Officer by the City, he was asked to take office permanently as Chairman, while Mr. H. A. Willis was appointed Vice-Chairman. The other members of the Sub-Executive are: Mr. A. A. Ballard, Honorary Secretary-Treasurer; Mrs. H. W. Arbuckle, Convener of Committee on Second-Hand Clothing; Capt. Leighton, Convener of Committee on Milk Distribution (skim milk for making milk foods), soup bones, etc.; Mr. Willis, Convener of the Committee on Production.

All purchasing of groceries, fuel or new clothing is in the hands of the Chairman, so as to avoid overlapping and to ensure a close check on all expenditures and to prevent business men from being the victims of unauthorized persons who quote the Committee or some member of the Committee as authority for the purchase of cash should be sent to Mr. Ballard.

The Chairman keeps in close touch with Mr. H. Anderson, the City Relief Officer, and with Dr. C. W. Dickson, Government Sub-Agent, concerning all cases of relief, and the co-operation has now reached a point where there is the fullest understanding and a very satisfactory distribution of work according to the terms under which each agency may operate. To H. Willis, which is rendering valuable service through the operation of a soup kitchen, is represented on the Committee and a check is kept not merely to avoid duplication but to reach as many as possible with whatever help can be given. The Committee is also in close touch with the soup kitchen and lunch service run by the school teachers through Miss Tisdall, School Nurse, upon whose recommendation the Committee supplies nourishing food to children and who supplies valuable information concerning needy families.

The Committee has representatives in Rutland and Benvoulin districts. Mrs. T. G. S. Chambers and Mrs. J. B. Fisher, respectively, who have been appointed by local women's organizations, and other appointments will be made in other districts if the need justifies them. The Kelowna and District Volunteer Relief Association federates all agencies administering any relief whatsoever and undertakes not only to prevent all overlapping and waste but seeks to cover all ground untouched by the organizations so federated. It proceeds on the principles of faith and good will and supplies the cushion of sympathy which, in the nature of the case, is less possible on the part of a Government or a City Council. Mr. Anderson attends the meetings of the Committee and gives his services in any way that circumstances make possible, and Dr. Dickson has given tireless attention to individual cases and renders invaluable service by close co-operation with the Committee.

At present the Committee have turned over to the City a number of names of families to be supplied permanently with food and fuel, and this must of necessity be done on a growing scale as families increase that have to be provided with all the needs of life. In view of this, the Committee are now considering the advisability of turning over a similar proportion of funds to provide for these families in view of the fact that such families are being regularly cared for and every dollar the City spends through the channels authorized by law will be added to by a covering federal dollar and provincial dollar, making three dollars in all.

SEA CADETS

Kelowna Corps 1358 "Grenville"

Our sympathy goes out again this week to yet another of our boys, Cadet Bryce, in the sad death of his father, Dr. Bryce, who is known to most of us as a regular visitor to our camp at Cedar Creek last summer.

We have had several enquiries about our annual dance, but it was decided that, owing to the hard times, it would be best to forego holding it this year and so leave the field open for other dances, etc., which will be put on for relief purposes. Don't run away with the idea that we have abandoned it altogether, because, as soon as times get better, we shall be right there with bells on once more.

We are beginning to get our new quarters into shape and I am sure we are going to be very comfortable there and get down to real work for the rest of the winter.

Our parade this week was devoted to instruction, compass, lead and line and knots being the subjects tackled. Next week we hope to try a few tests to see if any of the boys are able to add a few more points to the Watch competition, so snap into it.

We are pleased to welcome a new hand in the person of D. Toombs, who joined ship last week. There was also another prospect on deck this week and we hope he joined the look of things. If he doesn't join ship soon, it won't be the fault of your friend

OBITUARY

Dr. Henderson Lyne Bryce

Through the death of Dr. Henderson Lyne Bryce, who passed away at his residence on Abbott Street on Friday, January 1st, following a lingering illness, Kelowna lost one who had been a resident here for the past twelve years.

The late Dr. Bryce, who was in his forty-second year, was born in Toronto, in 1889, the son of Dr. Peter H. Bryce, of Ottawa, the first Medical Health Officer for the Province of Ontario and late Medical Superintendent of Immigration and Indian Affairs, and the late Mrs. Bryce. Following his graduation from Toronto University in arts and medicine a number of years ago, he came to British Columbia and practised in several towns before finally settling in Kelowna twelve years ago. His health in late years forced him to curtail his practice to a great extent.

Besides his wife (nee Miss Jean Russell, of Toronto) in Kelowna, to whom sympathy is extended in her bereavement, the late Dr. Bryce is survived by one daughter, Helen, and one son, William, in Kelowna; by his father, in Ottawa; and two sisters and three brothers in eastern Canada.

The funeral service was held on Monday, at 7.30 p.m., in the undertaking parlours of the Kelowna Furniture Company, Rev. D. A. Fowle, of Penticton, assisted by Rev. A. K. McMinn, conducting.

The remains, accompanied by Mr. W. F. Bryce, of Ottawa, brother of deceased, were taken on Tuesday morning by Canadian Pacific to Ottawa for interment in the family plot.

Mr. Manley Byrns

The funeral service of the late Mr. Manley Byrns, who passed away on Thursday morning last at his residence at the age of 74 years, was held on Saturday, at 2 p.m., from the First United Church to the Kelowna Cemetery, Rev. A. K. McMinn, assisted by Rev. J. H. Young, of Oyama, conducting.

The pall bearers were: Messrs. George Anderson, W. I. Black, O. Marr, A. L. Patterson, Willis Schell and A. E. Bostock, all members of the Oddfellows' Lodge, of which deceased was an esteemed member.

The late Mr. Byrns was born at Watford, Ontario, on April 9th, 1858. With his wife and daughter he came to Kelowna some thirty years ago from Manitoba, where he lived for several years, and resided continuously in this district until his death. When he first came here he pursued the occupation of farming, and for a period of eight years he was road foreman under the late Mr. S. T. Elliott, and was well known in the Okanagan Valley. Besides being keenly interested in the Oddfellows' order, he was active in community affairs. Until a year ago he enjoyed good health, but he suffered a fall about six weeks ago which hastened the end.

He is survived by his wife and a daughter, Alice, in Kelowna; a sister, Mrs. Prout, of Briercrest, Saskatchewan, who visited this city five or six years ago, and brothers in eastern Canada.

Miss Marie Marguerite Lemauviel

The death occurred on Sunday last of Miss Marie Marguerite Lemauviel, aged 37 years, who passed away in Vancouver following an illness of several months.

The late Miss Lemauviel was a resident of Kelowna for a number of years. Until about two years ago she was in the employ of Mr. H. F. Chapin, Bernard Avenue, which position she left to go to Vancouver to open up a store of her own. Suffering a nervous breakdown last year, the effect of which was responsible for her untimely end, she was compelled to give up her business and take a rest. Last summer she returned to Kelowna and obtained a position in the office of the Crown Fruit Co., Ltd., but ill health forced her to resign early in the fall, when she returned to her home in Vancouver.

Besides her sister here, Miss Suzanne Lemauviel, who left on Monday for Vancouver, deceased is survived by her parents and four brothers, all of Vancouver.

The funeral service was held this morning, at 8.30 a.m., from the Bell Funeral Parlours to the Church of Our Lady of Sorrows, where Requiem Mass was celebrated.

Interment was made in Ocean View Burial Park.

Lieut.-Col. John Perry

Although he had been gravely ill for more than three months, the news of the death on Monday of Lieut.-Col. John Perry, who passed away at his residence here, came as a shock to many in this community and throughout the Okanagan Valley who were not aware of his serious condition. A resident of the Kelowna district for twenty years, he was a well-known figure in the valley, and his death is mourned by a wide circle of friends.

The late Colonel Perry was born at Covey Hill, Quebec, 73 years ago. He moved to Montreal in the year 1908, where he remained until 1911. With his wife and family, he left the eastern metropolis in that year and came direct to the Kelowna district, settling in the then undeveloped Glenmore valley, where he took up ranching. In later years he became interested in the fruit packing industry, and was a shareholder in the Crown Fruit Company, Limited, and the Crescent Fruit Company, Ltd.

Holding the rank of Major in the 6th Canadian Hussars Regiment of Montreal, shortly after the outbreak of the Great War he became Commanding Officer of the internment camp at Vernon and was elevated to the rank of Lieutenant-Colonel in the B. C. Horse, serving about three years in all.

Besides his sorrowing wife, he is survived by four daughters, Mrs. A. S. Wade and Flora, of Kelowna, and Alice and Della, in Vancouver; two sons, Mr. Martin J. Perry, of Calgary, and Mr. William W. Perry, of Vancouver; two brothers, Messrs. William and Edward Perry and three sisters, Mrs. John Beattie, Mrs. William Horne and Mrs. Scott Simpson, all of Hemmingford, Que.

The funeral service, attended by all of his sons and daughters and Mrs. W. W. Perry and son Elmer, of Vancouver, was held on Wednesday, at 2 p.m., from First United Church to the Kelowna Cemetery, Rev. A. K. McMinn conducting.

The pall bearers were: Messrs. Martin J. Perry, William W. Perry, George A. Meikle, George S. McKenzie, F. A. Martin and Dr. O. Morris, of Vernon.

Mr. Alexander William Gordon

Coming with little warning, death claimed one of Kelowna's popular young men last night, when Alexander William Gordon, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Gordon, of Benvoulin, succumbed to a sudden heart attack in his home in the city. His untimely death, which came as a shock to his many friends in this district, is mourned by all who knew and loved "Alex," as he was familiarly called.

Last night he played hockey with the Kelowna hockey team, of which he was a member, on Wittup's pond at the north end of the city, apparently in good health, but late in the evening he complained of cramps and went home. Reaching the house, he asked his wife for a cup of tea, but in a few minutes he became very ill and expired before medical aid could be summoned. Dr. A. S. Underhill was called and pronounced death due to heart failure.

Alex was born in Glenmore 26 years ago, the son of pioneers of this district, his father, "Sandy" Gordon, having lived here some forty years. He was keenly interested in the more strenuous outdoor sports, having been a member of the Kelowna lacrosse team as well as an enthusiastic hockey player.

Besides his wife (nee Miss Winnie Craze) and parents, he is survived by one sister, Mrs. Geo. K. Gordon, of this city. The sympathy of the community goes out to them in their bereavement.

The funeral service will be held on Sunday at 2 p.m., at the First United Church. Interment will be made in the Kelowna Cemetery.

Mr. Paul Pentecost

Kelowna friends of Mr. Paul Pentecost, formerly Provincial Constable here, were painfully surprised and shocked to learn of his death, which took place in the Jubilee Hospital, Victoria, on Christmas Eve, after an illness of about six weeks duration.

Mr. Pentecost was stationed at Kelowna for several years, being transferred about five years ago to the Coast. Latterly he had been employed in the Motor Licence Branch of the Provincial Police at Victoria.

Fifty-two years of age, he was a native of England. He was a veteran of the South African war and also of the Great War, in which he served with the 3rd Hussars. He came to Canada about twenty-seven years ago and had been a member of the Provincial Police for twenty-two years, including the period of his service in the Great War.

Mr. Pentecost is survived by his widow, one son and one daughter, all residents in Victoria, and by two brothers and a sister in England.

The funeral was held on Monday, December 28th, to Royal Oak Burial Park, service being conducted at St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, by Rev. Canon Nunns, assisted by Rev. Mr. James. There was a very large attendance of friends, including members of the Masonic order, and the officers and staff of the Provincial Police, who attended in a body. A Masonic service was conducted at the graveside, and at its conclusion "Last Post" was sounded by a bugler.

In the judgments handed down by the Court of Appeal, Victoria, on Tuesday, John W. Bell and Wm. Hay were successful in their appeal from a Supreme Court judgment of Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald, ordering them to pay in excess of $3,000 damages to St. George P. Baldwin, of Okanagan Mission, and his son, Gordon Baldwin. Gordon Baldwin was injured near Okanagan Mission on November 4th, 1930, while driving his father's car. Wm. Hay was driving a truck belonging to J. W. Bell when the accident occurred. The trial judge found young Baldwin one-quarter to blame for the accident.

Driving with one arm is dangerous. It has plunged more than one man into matrimony.

COLDS AND ROUP AMONG POULTRY Symptoms Of Disease And Means Of Prevention And Control

(Experimental Farms Note)

A simple or common cold in poultry may be designated as an inflammation of the mucous membranes of the head and throat, probably resulting from some such cause as sudden climatic change. Hence it will follow the changing climatic conditions of autumn and early winter will be responsible for irritation of the membranes of the upper respiratory passages, resulting in a catarrhal condition of these membranes. In an acute catarrh the parts become engorged with blood, the secretion of the membrane becomes more fluid in consistency and augmented in amount. Should the exciting cause be not too prolonged, the engorgement subsides, the secretion returns to normal and the bird recovers. Unfortunately, in many instances the irritation is more prolonged, the secretion accumulating, thus closing the nasal passages where it formerly escaped and, with still further injury to the membranes, they are broken sufficiently to permit the entrance of disease producing microbes.

It can hardly be said that roup is present until the latter condition has developed, but in any event acute roup has its inception as a common cold, though in many instances the early stages of the disease are passed so rapidly as to escape undetected.

The symptoms of a cold are not very striking, but should be watched for, as they may be evidence of an impending attack of roup. When the cold is due to some remediable cause its correction will frequently abort the probable roup attack.

Symptoms.—With common colds the tissue damage is slight, and the symptoms are correspondingly ill-defined. Possibly the first noticeable evidence is a collection of dust particles about the nostrils, held there by a moist condition of the parts. Later one or both eyes may appear watery through partial closure of the tear ducts, when they fail to adequately carry away the augmented secretion. At this stage there may not be any evidence of a systemic disturbance, the birds feeding and otherwise appearing quite normal. Usually, however, one or more individuals will tend to segregate themselves from the remaining birds in the pen, and may be found on the roosts or huddled in the corner of the room. Coughing, sneezing, rattling in the throat and shaking of the head are other symptoms more or less present, depending upon the parts affected. It has not been shown that colds are infectious in nature, but the contrary holds good regarding roup. The infection in the latter disease seemingly requires something as indicated to permit its penetration of the tissues and the resulting disease production. These facts form the basis of rational disease control in the maladies under consideration.

Prevention and Control.—The exciting cause of colds, the common forerunner of roup, should be sought for and corrected. Probably the most fruitful in this respect is bad hygiene, and that which frequently passes detection as such. Draughts will do more to precipitate these diseases than all other causes combined and should be first eliminated when looking for the cause. Even in what is believed to be modern house construction there is much to be desired in this respect, and the mere fact of a plan having been closely followed in construction of the house should be no deterrent in the quest for possible draughts, and especially over the birds' heads at roosting time. There are naturally other accusable factors but attention to the matter of draughts alone will do much to curtail the annual crop of colds and roup at this season of the year.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

(From the files of "The Kelowna Courier")

Thursday, January 4, 1912

"We are very short of all local news this week, owing to the interruption of the ordinary weekly routine by the New Year holiday." (The same conditions still obtain.)

"The Bachelors' Ball, held in the Opera House on Thursday evening, was productive of a very large attendance, who enjoyed themselves until long after midnight to the strains of excellent music supplied by Mr. H. T. Boyd."

"The thermometer took a slight dip below the zero mark on Sunday and Monday nights, the lowest temperature registered in town being about three below. The crisp, dry, frosty weather is being much enjoyed by curlers and skaters, and the roads being in fine condition for sleighing, all the pleasures of a reasonable winter climate, without the intense cold of the prairies, may be indulged in without fear of mishap."

The opening of the new school at Ellison, on January 2nd, was marked by an official ceremony, performed by Hon. Price Ellison, which was followed by a programme of music and speeches and a toothsome supper, served in the basement of the new building, after which dancing was kept up till a late hour. Mr. M. Heron presided over the large gathering of between three and four hundred people.

An Englishman, named B. B. Starkey, about fifty-two years of age, met his death through exposure, on December 31st, about two miles south of Nahun, on the west side of Okanagan Lake. He had been visiting a friend and, when returning to the house, where he was staying, he slipped off the trail and fell or rolled about twenty feet into a dry gully. Marks in the snow indicated that he had made repeated efforts to regain the trail and had fallen repeatedly in attempting to ascend the slippery hillside. So far as could be ascertained, he received no injuries of any consequence from the repeated falls, but, wearied with his efforts and probably rendered sleepy by the cold and a few drinks of liquor consumed at his friend's house, he lay down to rest in an easy and natural position and never again woke to consciousness, his body being discovered the following day frozen stiff.

TUBERCULOSIS ASSOCIATION REPORTS GOOD PROGRESS

Material Gain In Number Of Treatment Beds Available For Patients

We have thirty years of active progress to look back upon. Our task is well in hand. We have received for our Seal sales this year the most generous newspaper publicity in our existence. Our work is not finished and we are so pleased with the evidence this year that our welcome is not worn out.

This year is the first in which we have used an all Canadian Christmas Seal. It was designed by a Canadian artist, printed by Canadian artisans, and sold to help Canadians help themselves. The statutory action of the Ontario Provincial Legislature last spring left much for us to desire from the effects of the Ross Report, but this autumn the Government invoked unemployment aid in construction of sanatoria, which will produce over 600 beds before the end of 1932. In all Canada we expect to have 8,283 beds when these 600 are completed, thanks to new construction also in Manitoba, Quebec, New Brunswick, and Nova Scotia. The climax of our good report is that 1932 will have more treatment beds available in Canada than deaths from tuberculosis, an approximate 18 per cent increase in 18 months.

The census will show a total population of 10,360,000, we are informed. This is in excess of what was anticipated and reduces our 1930 death rate per 100,000 population from tuberculosis, all forms, to 77.9.

This work is making progress in the Province of Quebec and, thanks to the work being carried on by Dr. Laberge, of the Provincial Bureau of Health, two industries have been completed.

The full-time Public Health machinery has been operating in Prince Edward Island since July 1st, and is proving its value. It is assisted financially by the Canadian Life Insurance Officers Association through our office.

We are very grateful to the press of Canada for their continued indispensable assistance.

Ellison, like neighbouring districts, is settling back to a slower and quieter life after many holiday festivities.

Mr. Walsh is being very successful in an attempt to revive Indian art and handicraft at his Indian school. He has many samples of work for which he has won numerous prizes at various exhibitions.

School reopened on Monday with a good attendance. The average attendance of December was a little lower than usual—97 per cent.

TUXIS BOYS' PARLIAMENT JUDGED THE BEST YET

Speeches Are Excellent—Clare Dilworth Earns Press Encomiums

(Contributed)
The Ninth Tuxis Boys' Parliament at Victoria was voted by all to be the best and most fruitful of real worth of any parliament yet held. Perhaps some of the "mechanics" of the sessions were not quite so machine-like as in some previous years, but this was largely due to the fact that a great many were first year members who had not absorbed the complicated routine of parliamentary procedure. The general opinion, however, was that no parliament had produced so many first-class speeches. The spirit of the sessions was splendid.

Perhaps the greatest factor and most valuable contribution was obtained through the medium of the discussion groups. This was a new innovation. The boys also had at noon luncheons the privilege of listening to a number of notable speakers upon various world problems.

The outstanding speech of the session was undoubtedly the Budget speech of Hon. Jim Ferris, of Kitchikano and Point Grey constituency. This was a remarkable effort and drew thunderous applause. Speaking at a noon banquet the next day, Rev. Bruce Gray, of Victoria, regretted it had been impossible for him to attend that session, but he said any one who got a compliment out of the Victoria Times surely earned it, and any one who got the compliment such as Jim Ferris got must certainly have been well worthy of it.

It is also of interest to note that the Victoria papers gave Clare Dilworth a nice write-up for his maiden speech and added, "He also gave the Okanagan and Kelowna some fine publicity." Clare spoke exceedingly well, took part in the discussion groups, led his own Church Relationships group and brought in a fine report from it.

A daily paper serial writer says: "She realized the value of her husband only when he was dead." He must have been well insured.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

RURAL FACTORIES FOR BRITISH COLUMBIA

Mission City, B.C.,
Dec. 31, 1931.

The Editor,
Kelowna Courier.

Sir,
As in other places in British Columbia, bad business is troubling the farmers here at Mission, B.C., because there are no factory people here to buy their crops. The prairie market is not good enough. Mission farmers need a local market for their crops.

This means that Mission needs factories. If factories were here employing five hundred factory workers, their payroll would be about ten thousand dollars per week, which would be spent mostly on farm crops and shop goods. This would give excellent business to Mission farmers and shopkeepers and would bring more people here so that the factories would have good sale for their products. Thus the factories would cause good business and growth of population.

Why, then, are not factories started here? It is chiefly because the Canadian Government thinks that the farmers of western Canada can sell their crops in Europe.

That opinion is wrong. Overseas trade with Europe is of little or no use to the farmers of British Columbia. Farmers here need local markets for their crops and for that reason the Canadian Government should promote immigration of factory people to establish factories and market towns in British Columbia.

To induce British manufacturers to put factories here, the Council of Mission District Municipality have decided to offer, to suitable manufacturers, free land for factory sites, free of local taxes for the first few years, and other municipalities should adopt this plan to bring more factories to British Columbia.

Not only here at Mission, but also at other towns in British Columbia, factories are needed to afford markets for farm crops and to supply factory goods. The Provincial Government and the people of British Columbia should use means to bring factory people into this province to promote prosperity.

Relief work on the roads cannot solve the unemployment problem. Such work is temporary, and the money might better be spent to start factories which would give productive, continuous, profitable employment to many people and also good markets for farm crops.

Yours truly,

JAS. PHILBERT.

EAST KELOWNA

Mr. T. L. Gillespie writes from Australia to tell of the sad news, of the death of Mrs. Dick Smith on the 29th November, just a year since she left East Kelowna. The late Mrs. Smith will be remembered by all of us for her unfailing cheerfulness and good spirits even under adverse circumstances. She acted as East Kelowna correspondent for the Courier for some time before she left here and joined in every community effort and activity so far as she was able. Our sympathies go out to Mr. Dick Smith, and to the family.

The funeral was held from Mr. Houston's (brother-in-law) residence and all members of the family were present. Interment was in Woronora Cemetery, 20 miles south of Sydney, Australia.

Miss Olivia Dickson left last Sunday for Vancouver, where she is attending the U.B.C., and also Miss Ruth Dickson, who is attending the Vancouver School of Decorative and Applied Arts. The girls spent a very happy holiday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Reynolds, and saw many old friends. Alas, the holidays are all too short!

A dance was held on New Year's Eve in the Community Hall. Mr. Hall and Mr. Tasker supplied the music, and dancing was kept up until an early hour.

Miss Monica Thorneloe returned to St. Michael's School in Vernon, last Wednesday.

The monthly meeting of the Women's Institute will be held on the 12th of January at Mrs. Thorneloe's house.

A RETROSPECT

(Contributed)

Looking back on the year just past, everyone seems to be agreed that it was about as disastrous a year as we have had for some time. Few were sorry to see it go, and fewer still would like to see a repetition of conditions such as they were in 1931.

Wondering if there was nothing good we could say of the departed year, I remembered that I have found that very often in this life one finds the opposite of the generally accepted beliefs to be true, and that man's conceptions of things appertaining to this life have been changed again and again.

The main principles of evolution are pretty generally accepted now, which is, by the way, a good instance of what I mean. But the point is, that if evolution is so, and we take a look at 1931 with that viewpoint in mind, we get a different aspect entirely.

We see in the boom years of 1927 to 1929 man going money mad; we see money the real god of this world; we see financiers become so expert that it is possible for a few of them to pile up billions more than they can possibly use, and that so piled up no one else can use. We see governments, large and small, controlled entirely by moneyed interests, but all seems well, prosperity reigns, and we feel that the world is safe in the hands of these men, and that perhaps after all, money really is the king and the god. Money is easy, and we see youth having its fling with no thought for the future, and discarding all ideas of religion and discretion.

Christianity is only a name, but that we should live it—no, it couldn't be done in these days. Imagine yourself, for a moment, one of the Lords of Evolution, looking down on the state of things as they were in the years mentioned, knowing that man HAD to evolve in time, till he was one with the Lords of Creation. Here he was sliding down hill again as fast as he could go. Here were avarice, greed and selfishness right on top again. What are you going to do about it? You have got to save man for himself, that he may arrive at his destined end some day. Wouldn't you do, in all kindness, much what has been done in 1930 and 1931?

Show the financiers that they didn't know very much after all, that there might be other powers that they knew not of, that greed MUST inevitably spell ruin for the individual? Show the youth that fun and gaiety had their part, but could not be all that there was to life, that the future and the far future had to be taken into account?

Would you not see the necessity of continuing to drive these lessons home till they were learned, even if it takes five, ten or twenty years, which, after all, is not a moment in evolution, until the people thanked you and blessed you that you had shown them that their way of living was entirely wrong? Till they could look back on years like 1931 as the best years in the history of the world, as in those years man began first to find out (as he thought for himself) that kindness and love really did pay, and there not only ideas to be found in the Bible, the Koran, and other books written for this purpose from time to time.

So that, if we take what 1931 had to offer, we can probably look back on the year that has gone with more kindly feelings than those that are usually expressed in the press.

ROYAL BANK OF CANADA

HOLDS STRONG POSITION

Total Assets Over $825,000,000, With $348,630,000 Liquid

The maintenance of its usual strong position and ready ability to meet the rapidly changing trade conditions are among the outstanding features of the annual report of The Royal Bank of Canada. The statement, which is for the fiscal year to November 30th, is now going forward to shareholders. It will be immediately accepted as further striking proof of the successful manner in which Canadian banks are dealing with the problems brought about by depressed business conditions.

The general statement of assets and liabilities shows total assets in excess of $825,000,000, a reduction of only about 7 per cent as compared with the amount reported at the end of the previous year. In the light of lower commodity prices and general slackening of activity, the maintenance of total assets at such a high level should be regarded as a remarkably good showing. In keeping with its policy the Bank's liquid position, as usual, is a strong one, liquid assets totalling $348,630,551, or over 48 per cent of liabilities to the public. The principal accounts included among them are cash items of $150,286,891; Dominion and Provincial Government securities of $85,473,058 and Canadian municipal and British foreign and colonial public securities of $24,641,816. Call loans total $76,293,380 and naturally represent a substantial reduction for the year, those in Canada being down $18,847,955, or 33 per cent, and those abroad over $7,000,000.

The generally lessened business activity is further reflected in commercial loans, which are $419,345,043, as compared with $444,815,877 a year ago. Letters of credit also show a reduction—nearly $10,000,000—obviously due to curtailed international trade.

Total deposits stand at $647,303,075 as against $695,589,060 at the end of the 1930 year. The decline, as is well known, has been principally in deposits elsewhere than in Canada, those in the Dominion being down only $7,160,200, and now amount to $479,165,064, as against $486,325,264.

The many shareholders of the Bank will be particularly interested in the Profit and Loss account and the showing made should be regarded as very satisfactory. Profits for the year amounted to $5,448,327, and these added to the amount brought forward from the preceding year brought the total available for distribution up to $9,555,105. Payment of the usual 12 per cent dividend absorbed $4,200,000, a contribution of $200,000 was made to Officers' Pension Fund; the usual amount of $400,000 was appropriated for Bank premises and $600,000 was set aside for Dominion Government taxes. After meeting all these charges, the substantial amount of $4,155,105 was carried forward to credit of Profit and Loss into the next fiscal year.

JANET GAYNOR HAS UNUSUAL OCCUPATION

Dainty Little Actress Is Marmalade Girl In "Delicious"

Janet Gaynor, whose latest production, "Delicious," comes to the Empress Theatre on Friday and Saturday, is again most appealing as the pathetic little figure surrounded by poverty and squalor through which her innate goodness and charm shine brightest. Charles Farrell is co-starred with her.

The story of "Delicious" is consistent with this characteristic of Miss Gaynor, except that her occupation is a little more than ordinarily unusual. She is, of all professions, a marmalade girl. Or was, before embarking in the steerage of a giant liner to sail for America to find a home with an uncle in Idaho. Farrell, as a handsome young sportsman and polo player returning from Europe with a string of ponies, meets her one day while he is down in the hold working with his horses. And the romance begins.

"Waterloo Bridge"

Demonstrating again the breadth of the motion picture as contrasted with that of the stage, "Waterloo Bridge," which features Mae Clarke and Kent Douglass on Monday and Tuesday, includes scenes that are enacted in quarter-mile long settings. Stressing realism in this Universal production, the director spent nearly three months on sketch reproductions of London's familiar corners before work was begun upon their construction. In addition to Trafalgar Square, actual-sized duplicates of a section of the Thames Embankment, Cleopatra's Needle, the front of His Majesty's Theatre and the corner of Leicester Square were built for the co-screen edition of Robert E. Sherwood's play.

"Sob Sister"

"Sob Sister," Fox drama of an ambitious girl, who was too busy trading on the romances of others to recognize her own love affair until it had practically passed her by, which will be shown at the theatre on Wednesday and Thursday, is hailed as one of the year's most important pictures. It marks the second screen appearance of James Dunn, who appeared in "Bad Girl," and introduces to movie fans a new leading lady, Linda Watkins. It is a story of newspaperdom.

The export of bacon and smoked meats from Poland has trebled since last year, according to a consular report. England buys practically all the ham and smoked meat. The export of fresh pork increased four times, with sales principally in France and Austria. The great increase in the export of bacon to England is due chiefly to the fact that on the initiative of the exporting syndicate "an average meat hog" (the term used in the report) is being produced instead of the heavy hard-hog, which was formerly exported to Austria.

AUDITORS' CERTIFICATE
To the Shareholders, The Royal Bank of Canada:
We have examined the above Statement of Liabilities and Assets at 30th November, 1931, with the books and accounts of The Royal Bank of Canada at Head Office and with the certified returns from the branches. We have verified the cash and securities at Head Office at the close of the Bank's fiscal year, and during the year we counted the cash and examined the securities at several of the important branches.
We have obtained all the explanations that we have required, and in our opinion the transactions of the Bank, which have come under our notice, have been within the powers of the Bank. The above statement is in our opinion properly drawn up so as to disclose the true condition of the Bank as at 30th November, 1931, and it is as shown by the books of the Bank.
